Human Trafficking

• The scale of the problem -
• Statement by National Crime Agency 10/8/17
  [link to source]
• How have we arrived here since The Somerset Case (1772)?

Contributory factors

• Refugees from war and natural disasters
• The failure of states to fulfil their obligations towards refugees
• The lure of developed countries to those who live in poverty in the third world
• Access to money for the traffickers – the links between trafficking and other types of trans-national organised crime including corruption
• The vulnerability of victims

Victims

• States & the media often treat them as economic migrants
• The UK has an undistinguished history
• The slow response of courts to the reality –
  • R v. N and Le [2012] EWCA Crim 189;
  • L and others v. R [2013] EWCA Crim 991;
  • R v. M(L) and others [2010] EWCA Crim 2327.
• States are unwilling to grant residence status except temporarily for the purposes of a prosecution
Victims

- How do our courts respond now?
- Modern Slavery Act 2015 – a good but inadequate response
- Cf Joint Parliamentary Committee report
- Immunity from prosecution for victims – s.45 and R v Joseph [2017] EWCA Crim 36
- Why are victims of trafficking treated differently from victims of sexual crimes?
- The problem of consistency in a victim’s account

Supply Chains & International Trade

- Part 6 (s.54) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015.
- Transparency in Supply Chains Regulations 2015
- Confined to commercial organisations with an annual turnover of £36m
- Attempt in November 2016 by members of the House of Lords to extend the obligation to public bodies failed.
- Are these sensible limitations – or should the prohibition on trafficking mirror the Bribery Act?
- Response of major UK companies

Client/Lawyer Privilege

- The problem of disclosure in the case of a victim of trafficking is one example of the dilemma posed by legal professional privilege.
- Whose privilege?
- Why?
- What are the problems?

Client/Lawyer Privilege

- Investigatory Powers Act - deliberate inroads even when the state has a commercial or forensic interest of its own
- The powers of the judicial commissioners
- SFO v ENRC [2017] EWHC 1017 (QB) – internal company investigations
- The difference between
  - advice privilege and
  - litigation privilege
- Are any secrets safe from the state?
